Paris - Olympics 2024

One of the most important prints and embroideries I created was this one! I worked as a print designer at the brand that partnered with the Portuguese Olympic games committee and was invited by the accessories director to create a print with motifs from Portuguese valentines' scarves!

We developed a mood board and created the print with program plugins. Initially, there were suits for valentines, but to make embroidery easier, it was decided to only have scarf motifs. We tested products such as sneakers and caps until we arrived at the standard bearers, created by Designer Anabella Lourenço.

After tracing piece by piece, the embroidery went to Vila Verde and the embroiderers who created it with great care!

Tha Onça Say Hi!

Passionate about food, books and art exhibitions, , these things inspire me to create and see through art. This allows me to share with the world a little of my admiration for people who spread their joy through art. I have a dream of being part of this creative world and developing my career while spreading more joy through out.

Through prints we can showcase different techniques. Watercolors, gouche, as well as digital techniques are examples on what we use to tell the story around us.
